Several housand dollars were realized by lectures, oan exhibitions, bequests and donations, out the prospects for establishing a perment building were small until one of e city's generous millionaires (the late naries W. West) came forward with a nation of $150,000, upon condition at the citizens raise a like sum. Thi as done at once, and finally the enter-rise was placed upon a solid footing, by further bequest from Mr. West of 130,000 as an endowment fund.

THE BRIDGES Three immense structures span the hio, and a fourth is contemplated. The most notable one is the Suspension bridge, which has the largest single span of its dass in the world. The distance between towers is 1,057 feet. It is thirty-itx feet wide and contains two ways for selestrians, two corriage ways and a fouble-track for street ratiroads. The ables weigh 2,000,000 pounds, and the otal length of the bridge is 2,552 feet.

Close to Burnet Woods Park, is the mutiful suberb of Clifton, an almost ontinuous landscape garden, beautifully versified with hill and dale, and conlining the most elegant residences in the untry. The village gets its name from Hifton farm, a tract of land of about 200 acres, and the population does not xeeed 1,500. It has twenty-two miles of rennes, lined with fine shade trees, and se planting of these trees is continued om year to year. There is no more autiful drive on earth than can be
